

Church of Scientology Overview

March, 2010

- The Scientology religion was founded by American author and humanitarian, L. Ron Hubbard. The first Church of Scientology was formed by Scientologists in Los Angeles in 1954. Today the religion spans the globe with more than 8,000 Churches, Missions and groups in 165 countries.
- The word Scientology is taken from the Latin word scio, which means "knowing in the fullest meaning of the word," and the Greek word logos, meaning "study of." It literally means "knowing how to know."
- The Scientology religion operates freely all over the world and has hundreds of religious recognitions from courts and government administrative bodies. Scientology has been formally recognized as a religion in each of the following countries: Albania, Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Costa Rica, Croatia, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Hungary, India, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Kyrgyzstan, Nepal, New Zealand, Nicaragua, the Philippines, Portugal, Scotland, Slovenia, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Sweden, Taiwan, Tanzania, the United States, Venezuela and Zimbabwe.
- The total number of individuals completing counseling and training services has doubled in the past two years.
- The number of people newly introduced to Scientology and starting on training or counseling has doubled in the past five years.
- Total assets and property holdings of the Church of Scientology internationally have doubled since 2004.
- The combined size of Church premises increased from nearly 5.6 million square feet in 2004 to 11 million square feet at the beginning of 2010.
- The Church has acquired 70 buildings since 2004 in major population centers around the world.
- Another 50 Churches are in design, planning or construction phases, including half a million square feet under construction in Tel Aviv, Melbourne, Mexico City, Seattle, Pasadena and Los Angeles.

PUBLICATIONS APS

Publication of L. Ron Hubbard's Works

- To meet the tremendous demand for L. Ron Hubbard's works and to make possible the release of all of his books and lectures in a cost effective manner, the Church established state-of-the-art digital publishing houses in Los Angeles and Copenhagen.
- Bridge Publications Inc. opened a 274,000 square-foot headquarters in Los Angeles, California, in 2009 to meet the demand for L. Ron Hubbard Dianetics and Scientology publications. Bridge is the world's largest all-digital, print-on-demand publishing house, producing all L. Ron Hubbard Dianetics and Scientology materials for the Americas, Asia and the rest of the world except Europe and the United Kingdom.
- New Era Publications in Copenhagen, Denmark, is the Church of Scientology publishing house providing L. Ron Hubbard Dianetics and Scientology books for Europe and the United Kingdom.
- These publishing facilities can print up to 500,000 books per week—26 million per year—and replicate 925,000 CDs per week, 48.1 million annually. Their production capabilities have increased by 660% since 2007.
- 81 million L. Ron Hubbard books and lectures on Dianetics and Scientology have been distributed in the last decade, compared to 5.6 million in the prior decade. More than 68 million of that 81 million have been distributed since 2007 — more than during the first 50 years of Dianetics and Scientology combined.
- L. Ron Hubbard's books have won 18 design and printing awards in the past year.
